CORAM : MR.JUSTICE R.P.DHOLAKIA

Date of decision: 28/06/2000

ORAL JUDGEMENT

The petitioner has been detained under the provisions of Gujarat Prevention of Anti-Social Activities Act, 1985 (hereinafter referred to as 'the Act of 1985') by the order dated 28-11-1999 passed by the Police Commissioner, Rajkot City and he has been declared as bootlegger.

2. It is now well settled that unless the activities of a person as bootlegger has disturbed the maintenance of public order, he cannot be detained under the Act. Reliance is placed on a decision of the case of Piyush Kantilal Mehta Vs. Commissioner of Police, Ahmedabad & Ors. reported in AIR 1989 SC 491.

3. I have heard learned advocate for the petitioner at length and also perused the material on record. He has mainly argued on the point that son of the present petitioner, Mr. Ranjitsinh has sent the representation to the authority on 23-2-2000, but authority has not decided the same till 6-3-2000 and, therefore, there is a delay of 12 days. He has relied upon a case of Rajammal Vs. State of Tamil Nadu and another reported in AIR 1999 S.C. page 684 more particularly at head note which states as under:

"Detention-Unexplained delay of five days in considering and disposing detenu's representation-Mere absence of Minister at Headquarters not sufficient to justify delay-Detention vitiated."

The Apex Court quoted in the above referred judgment certain portion of a judgment delivered by a Constitutional Bench in K.M. Abdulla Kunhi and B.L. Abdul Khader V. Union of India, which reads thus:

"It is a constitutional mandate commanding the concerned authority to whom the detenu submits his representation to consider the representation and dispose of the same as expeditiously as possible. The words "as soon as may be" occurring in clause (5) of Article 22 reflects the concern of the Framers that the representation should be expeditiously considered and disposed of with a sense of urgency without an avoidable delay. However, there can be no hard and fast rule in this regard. It depends upon the facts and circumstances of each case. There is no period prescribed either under the Constitution or under the concerned detention law, within which the representation should be dealt with. The requirement however, is that there should not be supine indifference, slackness or callous attitude in considering the representation. Any unexplained delay in the disposal of representation would be a breach of the constitutional imperative and it would render the continued detention impermissible and illegal".

It has been further held by the Apex Court in para 9 as under:

"The position, therefore, now is that if delay was caused on account of any indifference or lapse in considering the representation such delay will adversely affect further detention of the prisoner. In other words, it is for the authority concerned to explain the delay, if any, in disposing the representation. It is not enough to say that the delay was very short. Even longer delay can as well be explained. So the test is not the duration or range of delay, but how it is explained by the authority concerned."

4. In the instant case representation has been sent on 23-2-2000, but it remained undecided till 6-3-2000. In the judgment reported in Rajammal (supra), though there was a delay of five days only in considering and disposing detenu's representation, detention was held to be vitiated. Here in this case, there was a delay of 12 days in considering the representation and no satisfactory explanation has been put forward by the respondents. Therefore, case of the present petitioner is on the much better footing to that of case reported above. The petition succeeds only on this point and, therefore, learned advocate for the petitioner does not press other points.

5. In view of the above, the petition is allowed. The order of detention dated 28-11-1999 passed against the petitioner-detenu is hereby quashed and set aside. The detenu-Najbhai Laxmanbhai Vala (Kathi) is ordered to be set at liberty forthwith, if not required to be detained in any other case. Rule is made absolute accordingly with no order as to costs.
